

Today vast fertile fields are a monument to the foresight of the Mormon Pioneers who were the first in western civilization to employ the science of irrigation. Utah celery has a nationwide "audience."

14

Long range planning for the preservation of wild fowl life, makes Utah an outstanding spot in the Nation.

Millions of fish annually are turned loose into lakes and streams from the state's 12 large hatcheries.